WHY CHOOSE AN ENTRANCE® COMPOSITE DOOR?

LOW MAINTENANCE

An Entrance composite door gives you the aesthetic appeal of a timber door without the worry of swelling or the hassle of painting. Our doors' impact resistant GRP skins have been designed to replicate the grain of an oak tree creating a natural look. Our extensive range of colours are resilient against UV damage and the internal structure of the door is manufactured from laminated timber which prevents any twisting and warping. The combination of these elements mean that our doors come with a 10 year structural and surface finish guarantee.

SUPERIOR SECURITY

We take your security seriously, and have had our doors independently tested to PAS 24 and Part Q standards. Each of our hardware options are based around our high security, multipoint locking systems. German manufactured, our locks have passed the rigours of PAS 24 testing and are approved by the Secured by Design policing initiative known for their knowledge in quality and security. As standard, your door will be supplied with the Winkhaus Trulock locking system, along with paired with the Brisant Ultion 3 Star security cylinder with a £1000 Guarantee to the homeowner against burglar attacks. We also offer many upgraded hardware options, from an enhanced handle option to automatic locking and electronic access controls.

THERMAL EFFICIENCY

Entrance composite doors have many benefits over timber, PVC and solid timber composite doors, one major advantage is the thermal efficiency of our doors. With energy bills at an uncertainty people more than ever want to make sure they spend their money wisely. With a high-density, foam insulated core, our composite doors have been proven to be 19% more thermally efficient than and 48mm solid timber core composite doors, and 17% more than your traditional timber door. Our doors help keep the heat locked inside your home by preventing heat escaping through your door, therefore decreasing the energy loss and costs!

This market leading security handle provides the ultimate security for your Entrance. From its aesthetics to its mechanisms, the Lock Lock handle covers all potentially weak points a standard handle may have.

Aesthetics – The curved, modern shape of the Lock Lock is not only for good looks, but its curved mould makes it harder for the assailant to grab with pliers to pull away from the door. The cylinder is closely surrounded by the handle to also prevent the cylinder being gripped and snapped from the door. 210% stronger than the industry standard handle, so forced entry through prizing of the handle is an impossible task.
